Web Developer

Server, Network & Systems Administrator

---

I build and operate scalable web platforms that power real-world solutions. With 4+ years of experience in React, Next.js, Node.js, and MongoDB, I craft seamless digital experiences—from pixel-perfect UIs to rock-solid backends and databases.

My strong system-administration background means your applications don't just ship on time—they run smoothly, scale reliably, and stay secure. I own the full stack: cloud deployments, web-server configuration, firewall hardening, database administration, CI/CD pipelines, and infrastructure automation.

I thrive on collaboration and transforming ideas into production-ready systems that work under pressure. Ready to scale your platform or upgrade your infrastructure? Let's talk.

Projects

DevXP Projects
March 2023 - April 2023, Online

This is a group of developers that have come together to learn how to work as a team by building different sections of the landing page of a school website.

Frontend Mentor
January 2023 - January 2024, Online

This is a site that helps improve my front-end coding skills by giving me real projects to build. I solve real-world HTML, CSS and JavaScript challenges whilst working with professional designs.
